

(Caliph and king their ladies had to love them and to make them glad, when the world was young and mad, in the city of Bagdad—mine is a little lovelier than any of those ladies were.)

Her body is most beauteous, being for all things amorous fashioned very curiously of roses and of ivory.
The immaculate crisp head is such as only certain dead and careful painters love to use for their youngest angels (whose praising bodies in a row between slow glories fleetly go.) Upon a keen and lovely throat the strangeness of her face doth float, which in eyes and lips consists —always upon the mouth there trysts curvingly a fragile smile which like a flower lieth (while within the eyes is dimly heard a wistful and precarious bird.) Springing from fragrant shoulders small, ardent, and perfectly withal smooth to stroke and sweet to see
